Safety in numbers

1 person

Forklifts are for carrying loads only, and should never carry people. There is a reason there is only one seat, and that's for the forklift operator only.
No passengers!

3 feet away

Pedestrians must stay three feet away from forklifts. This creates a “safety halo” that consists of a two-ring zone – the danger zone and the warning zone. Danger Zone: This is the zone within three feet of a forklift. If a pedestrian is within three feet, the operator must stop.

3 seconds

The safe traveling distance between forklifts is approximately three truck lengths, or about a time-lapse of three seconds when passing the same point.

15-20 centimeters

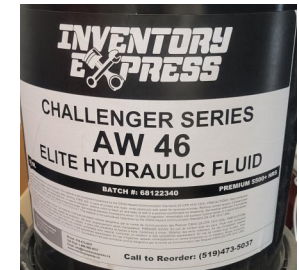

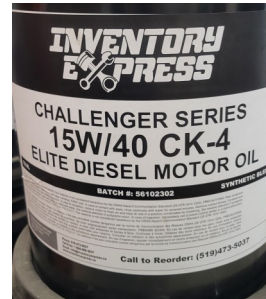

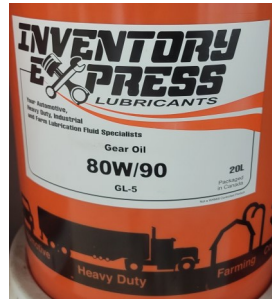

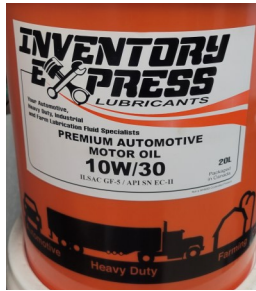

While traveling, keep the load at a safe travel height. Lower the load so that its lowest point is 15 to 20 cm from the floor.
